

Yes, you can.[®]

Invacare B.V. (Netherlands Sales) activities affect the environment. We therefore take environmental responsibility and work for a sustainable development of society through providing technical aids that consider both people and the environment.

For us in Invacare B.V. (Netherlands Sales) it is a precaution to comply with the environmental laws and other requirements, additionally protecting the environment, including the prevention of pollution, posed to us in relation to the sales, distribution, service of hygiene products, beds, mattresses, seating, power add-ons, patient lifters and wheelchairs in the area of rehabilitation. Every day we work to improve our environmental performance through:

- Work for continuous improvement of our environmental performance;
- Energy efficient and environmentally friendly transport solutions through the choice of partners (where possible), the type of means of transportation we have and use;
- Together with the customer, we are striving to determine the least environmental-loading solution that meets the customer's needs, and considers continuously whether a product must be repaired or replaced with new one;
- Training and awareness throughout the organization;
- Packaging and waste management;
- Avoid the use of unnecessarily excessive environmental materials, i.e. choosing digital solutions to avoid unnecessary use of paper or replace chemicals with more environmental ones etc.;
- Searching and selecting eco-branded products and consumables;
- Preferably choose environment certified suppliers and other partners

To prove this, we have Implemented ISO 14001 environmental management system

Joost Beltman
Managing Director